To protect their website from malicious activity, the owner or administrator may block access from specific countries, networks, or IP addresses. If you believe there was a mistake, you can:

- Check to see if you have enabled a VPN or any kind of proxy. Such services mask your real IP with their own, which might be restricted on this website;
- Change your connection settings , e.g., switch from Wi-Fi to mobile data, or try using a different device to access the website;
- Contact iz.ru support and tell them about the issue. Make sure to include request data below.
