Vileika regional newspaper - fresh and interesting news

Think, parent, WHOM you brought up...

November 4, 2014 | 0 views

A sixteen-year-old guy without any reason punched a man in the face, causing bodily injuries to the latter ... In the evening, out of hooligan motives, the three "heroes" damaged the memorial erected in Kurents on the grave of civilians who were shot and burned in September 42 ... Two minors wished ride and stole someone else's car ... Another "young and early" appropriated someone else's bike ... Four youngsters stole a battery from a tractor - this happened in Lyudvinovo ... A company of youngsters entered the passenger compartment of someone else's car and tried to start it, but it didn't work out ...

Similar examples could be given further. Such here "hobbies" happen at minors. Why is this happening? Who is to blame? About this and not only - our conversation with the judge of the district court Emilia STREZH . The conversation began with an alarming:

- The state of juvenile delinquency causes reasonable concern, - said Emilia Viktorovna. - According to the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Belarus, there is an increase in the criminal activity of minors. This applies to both quantitative and qualitative characteristics of juvenile delinquency. Its characteristic features are violence and cruelty. There is an increase in illegal acts committed by young people on the basis of drunkenness, substance abuse and drug addiction. According to statistics, every fifth crime is committed by them in a state of alcoholic or drug intoxication.

The proportion of pre-prepared, sophisticated and technically equipped juvenile crimes, which, as a rule, are group crimes, is increasing. And this is scary, because, committing a crime in a group, a person loses his individual traits, his behavior is more determined by the mental complex inherent in the group as a whole. It is the group crimes of minors that are distinguished by the greatest cruelty. It happens that such “packs” include not only young men, but also girls, and often adults with a criminal past.

Simultaneously with crime among minors, other accompanying forms of antisocial behavior are widespread: drunkenness, drug addiction, prostitution, vagrancy, homelessness, which are closely related to crime.

– Исходя из практики, Вы, Эмилия Викторовна, можете, наверное, отметить, какие преступления чаще всего совершаются юными и даже «нарисовать» портрет типичного несовершеннолетнего преступника…

- In the general structure of juvenile delinquency, crimes against property predominate, in second place - theft of vehicles and hooliganism, in the third - crimes against the person. What is he, a portrait of a young criminal? This is, in the overwhelming majority, a young man who does not work or study, abuses alcohol or uses drugs, was brought up in a family with an unfavorable moral and psychological atmosphere (where parents drink, lead a criminal lifestyle). As for the drunkenness of parents, it has a great influence on the formation of the personality of a juvenile delinquent. It should also be noted that juvenile delinquency is significantly affected by drugs and substance abuse. Among the consumers of these substances, students of vocational schools and colleges, workers, and the unemployed predominate. There are students and even schoolchildren among them.

Of course, we are doing a lot to ensure that the younger generation grows up healthy, so that they do not enter adulthood already with a criminal record. But, apparently, efforts are still not enough. Although juvenile delinquency has changed qualitatively in recent years, it still remains a serious problem that has a negative impact on the economic, social and cultural development of our society, causing damage to the human potential of society and hindering its sustainable development.

- I agree with you completely and am sure of one thing: you need to start raising children in the family, from early childhood - to educate by
